

Mustafa Mohamed Bakhet

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

A political leader and expert in administration and public finance, with extensive experience across government, politics, and civil society. His diverse career spans the private sector, NGOs, and senior administrative positions at the Ministry of Finance, alongside a political journey that began with student activism and expanded to include membership in the political bureaus and leadership bodies of Sudan's most influential political entities.

He has a proven track record in managing sensitive government sectors, leading political and thematic blocs within key civil alliances, and applying specialized expertise in conflict resolution and peacebuilding. A committed national figure, he upholds the principles of good governance in service of development and strongly believes in the role of organized civic and political engagement as a vital tool for achieving peace and democratic transition.
