

Ibrahim Ahmed Elmirghani

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

A prominent Sudanese politician with an academic background in economics and political science, combined with executive experience in both the technology sector and government. He served as State Minister of Communications and Information Technology, where he played a central role in modernizing the country’s digital infrastructure, and currently serves as Deputy Chairman of the Democratic Unionist Party (Original), one of Sudan’s oldest political parties.

Elmirghani holds a clear reformist vision focused on engaging youth in political life and promoting the values of good governance. He has received advanced training at leading international institutions, equipping him to be among the most promising Sudanese figures in the post-revolution landscape.

Profile

Previously:

- State Minister of Communications and Information Technology, Government of Sudan
- Deputy Chairman, Democratic Unionist Party (Original) – Sudan

Education and Training

- Bachelor’s Degree in Economics and Political Science
- Participant in prestigious international training programs, including:
Governance Program for Ministers and Senior Government Officials – National Academy of Governance, Beijing, China

Core Values and Guiding Principles

- National belonging
- Responsibility
- Reform
- Justice
- Youth empowerment
- Pluralism and openness

Areas of Expertise

- Public and developmental policies
- Information technology and government digital transformation
- Governance and institutional transparency
- Political communication and party reform
- Youth leadership and regional political engagement

Political Profile Experience

- Deputy Chairman, Democratic Unionist Party (Original), one of Sudan’s oldest political parties
- Key contributor to party work and internal political reforms
- Participant in several national dialogue initiatives and issues related to Sudan’s democratic transition
- Strong focus on promoting youth political participation and building modern political institutions

Professional Experience

- State Minister of Communications and Information Technology — Oversaw the development of telecommunications policies and digital transformation initiatives
- Worked with multilateral teams on issues related to information technology, cybersecurity, and the digitization of government services
- Participated in regional and international conferences on governance, technology, and leadership